GRAINGER FOR MAYOR

Democrats Select City Ticket at Louisville.

Representatives and Senators About Equally Divided Between Wheeler, McCreary and Cantrill.

Louisville, July 10.—Charles F. Grainger was nominated for mayor on the Democratic ticket yesterday by a vote of two to one. T. L. Jefferson was the only other candidate.

A good ticket was named throughout. No complaints are made and no talk of contests is indulged in.

Magistrate McCann, a Brown Democrat, was nominated for police judge. This insures the support of the Whallen crowd. Alexander, another Whallenite, was badly beaten by Huffer; Hoke was beaten by Judge Gregory.

Grainger's Majority was 5,000 out of a total vote of 13,800.

Wheeler, who is for Wheeler and McNut for McCreary, were nominated for senator. The representatives are Lettler, young Newcomb, Reybert, Edwards, McDonald, C'Conner, Drewry. They are about equally divided between McCreary, Wheeler, Cantrill and Ellis. Newcomb is the wealthiest young man in the county. McDonald is an ex-Confederate.

A FREE MAN.

"Nuck" Howard, Arrested Here, Was Acquitted at Owensboro.

"Nuck" Howard, who was arrested near this city about two weeks ago and taken to Owensboro to answer a charge of shooting at with intent to kill his sister, Mrs. Pete Gertisen, is a free man again. At his examining trial at Owensboro the case was dismissed, his prosecution and dismissal for killing her husband serving as a bar to this prosecution. He was dismissed in that case on a plea of insanity and after being sent to the asylum here was released in a short while.

SILVER WEDDING.

Twenty-Fifth Marriage Anniversary Celebrated Last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young celebrated their silver wedding last Friday at their home on West Seventh street.

Girard's band furnished music during the evening and very large crowd of friends were present on the delightful occasion. Delicious refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Young were the recipients of many presents.

DEATH NEAR CROFTON.

Wife of Samuel Smith Dies After Long Illness.

Mrs. Aldy Smith, wife of Mr. Samuel Smith, who lives four miles east of Crofton, died Sunday afternoon, after an illness of several months. She was 28 years old and had been a member of the Baptist Church for several years. She is survived by a husband and several small children. The interment took place Monday in the West burying ground.

FIRE BY LIGHTNING.

Shotgun Explodes But No One Was Hurt.

A most remarkable accident occurred during a thunderstorm at Hampton Station, near Guthrie. Lightning struck a loaded shotgun standing in the corner of J. T. Hancock's store, fired the gun and caused the weapon to burst. No one was hurt.

GREAT SUCCESS.

Many Counties Represented in the Roads Convention.

Meeting Far Ahead of the Louisville Gathering in Attendance and Interest.

Intensely interested in the good roads movement, hundreds of farmers forsook harvest fields Wednesday to become delegates to the Western Kentucky Good Roads Convention, which met in the Union Tabernacle. Many ladies were present, who chatted volubly and wondered what it was all about until enlightened by erudite speakers.

Although a spirit of business controls the convention, there was a feeling of festivity in the town which had its prelude in an Elks' social session Tuesday night, where Gov. Beckham was guest of honor. This social phase of the convention continued Wednesday night with a ball at Hotel Latham. In the meantime the ladies' arrangement committee kept open house in public reception, serving light refreshments.

Previous to the opening of the convention many drove to Cox Mill bridge to inspect the model road.

There was the usual delay in the preliminaries of the convention, which was not called to order by Mayor Dabney until nearly 11 o'clock. Two thousand people were present.

Previous to prayer by Rev. J. L. Wyatt, of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, Girard's Concert Band attired in blue and white striped shirt waists, rendered some lively airs. George C. Long, President First National Bank, was made temporary chairman and Chas. M. Meacham temporary secretary. The welcome address was delivered by Judge James Breathitt, which was responded to by Hon. Dancy L. Fort, of Clarksville, Tenn. Both speakers convulsed the great crowd with humorous stories most appropriate to the occasion and brilliantly boomed the movement. Temporary Chairman Long having an engagement soon insisted on retiring to make way for ex-Congressman J. D. Clardy, whom he named for permanent chairman. The convention enthusiastically received Dr. Clardy, who introduced Gov. Beckham amidst continued enthusiasm and applause. The Governor delivered a brief address, approving the motive of the meeting, promising the movement his support and congratulating the people upon the absence of politics. The convention then adjourned until 2:30.

In the afternoon speeches were made by Col. Richardson, of the Good Roads Association; Dr. J. H. Lackey, of Trigg county; Judge John G. B. Hall, of Hopkins county; Hon. Henry D. Allen and others. A committee on credentials was appointed, composed as follows: Dr. W. G. Wheeler, of Christian; Hon. Gerald Finn, of Simpson; Col. M. H. Crump, of Warren; Judge Robert Crenshaw, of Trigg; Hon. H. W. Woodson, of Webster; Gen. H. B. Lyon, of Lyon; Squire W. B. Brewer, of Todd.

This committee submitted a partial report with a list of 120 delegates from fourteen counties besides 500 or more from Christian. As many were known to be on the evening trains, the final report was deferred. Hon. Jas. A. McKinzie, who was expected to deliver the address of welcome, was not present, but Judge Breathitt proved to be a very able and ready substitute.

A committee on Resolutions, with Mayor Dabney as chairman, was appointed; also a Committee on Permanent Organization of the Western Good Roads Association, to report Thursday.

Yesterday's Session.

The Convention reconvened at 9:30 yesterday morning and after prayer by Rev. J. T. Rushing and

A RARE SPECIMEN.

Frank Mark Twain Played When a Boy on His Father.

"Mark Twain's father was an ornithologist. He had several friends who were also enthusiasts on the subject of birds. Whenever any one of them discovered a rarer bird was the custom to have a consultation. Mark had been a witness of several of these consultations and had noted the delight the old men took in discussing a new-found specimen. One day, says the New York Times, it occurred to him to provide the Hannibal ornithologists with a real crown in the form of a bird. He killed a crow and also a barnyard rooster. Plucking out the tail feathers of both the crow and the rooster, he substituted the rooster's tail feathers for those of the crow, producing a unique effect. When he had the specimen nicely prepared he went to his father, and, handing it to him, he said:

"Here, father, is a very curious bird I shot. I thought it would be interesting to it."

The old gentleman gazed upon the specimen with astonishment. That evening the ornithologists of Hannibal were assembled in Mr. Clemens' parlor. The rare specimen was put before them. The discussion was learned and long. The opinions expressed were various. One thought the bird was an offshoot of the bird of paradise family; others had equally ridiculous notions as to its ancestry. But there was one who refused to be swayed by the peculiarity of the bird's tail from the judgment that it was or the crow family.

"Why, just look here," he said, lifting the bird by its tail feathers. He got no further. The feathers came out. There was a quick closing of a door. Mr. Clemens started to leave the room.

"Gentlemen," he said, "please excuse me a few moments. I will see Samuel first and explain later."

HE WON, TO HIS SORROW.

Got the Fifteen Dollars, But Lost His Prospective Bride.

"From Denver, eh?" he said to a westerner he was introduced to in the chair car. "Well, sir, the saddest incident of my life is connected with your state."

"I am sorry for that," was the reply. "Thank you, and it wasn't your fault, of course. It was years ago, and I was a young man striving for fortune. I loved a girl in Toledo, but her stern father would not give her up to me until I had wealth. I went to your state and located a mine. I worked hard for months and months, but wealth did not come. Discouraged and disheartened, I finally staked my claim against $15 in a game of poker."

"And lost it just as there was millions of dollars?" queried the Denverite.

"Ah, no, sir! If I only had! No! I did not lose it. I held four kings and won the $15 and kept the mine."

"Then where does the sad part of it come in?"

"Well, that $15 encouraged me to buy three new pickaxes and bring around that old hole for a year and a half longer, and the poor confiding girl got her back up and married a promoter who had made $1,000,000!"

WOMEN PHYSICIANS.

Increase in Number Shown by Signs Displayed in New York.

"One thing that has impressed me in my recent trips around town," said the city salesman to a New York Sun reporter, "is the large number of signs put up by women doctors. A few years ago these signs were so rare that to see a woman's name printed in gilt letters on a black background with 'M. D.' after it attracted attention, but nowadays they are as plentiful as blackberries."

"There are certain streets where these signs of the woman practitioner flourish most abundantly. Those of the East side outnumber those of the West side two to one. Lexington avenue seems to be the favorite thoroughfare of the women doctors, and a goodly percentage of the doctors' signs announce that the physician within is called Mary or Sarah or some other name equally feminine. How much practice these women have is another question, but they certainly do make a brave showing with their cards."

New Way Shows the Nightingale

An interesting attempt is being made to naturalize the nightingale in Norway, and a large number of birds, imported from Hungary, have been released in the pine forests fringing Christiania fjord. The nightingale has hitherto never ventured so far north as Christiania, and it remains to be seen whether these sensitive birds will take kindly to their new home.

A HORSE AND A DOG.

Former Was a Good Mourner, the Latter Put Out Fire.

"Speaking of the queer antics of animals," said an old friend of the New Orleans Times-Democrat writer, "I recall the story of the faithful old black horse 'Nigger,' who played such a conspicuous part in the history of the volunteer fire department in this city, and another case of a faithful dog in another city that never missed going to a fire. Nigger, a sleek, black, pretty animal, who was really a part of the old volunteer fire department in New Orleans, was a remarkable horse, and I remember well her strange devotion to the gallant band of fire fighters who protected the city from blazes before the present department was organized. There was one thing particularly that causes me to think of Nigger. She never missed a funeral when any member of the department died, and she always insisted on wearing the honor of first mourner. She would take her position up next to the hearse, and would lead the solemn cortege to the cemetery, and really she seemed to feel the solemn situation as deeply as any mourner. The other case was that of a dog, and from the time she was old enough to go to a fire until she died she never failed to respond to an alarm. She lived her life in another city. She would bound out with the firemen, and frequently she would beat them to the scene of the fire, and she would fight an incipient blaze with as much vigor as the firemen. The men were foolish about the dog, and they gave her credit for having put out many small blazes, where the fire originated in rags, or straw. But she went to one fire too many. The fire was in a two-story building, and the faithful dog had scurried up the ladder and disappeared through one of the windows. The building was filled with smoke. The dog had been smoldering in the basement, and was well and away. The firemen were driven out finally by the flames. They missed the dog, and made every effort in the world to locate the faithful creature, but to no avail. She was burned to death in the building, and if the firemen had lost a man in the blaze it is not likely that they would have felt worse than they did in losing the faithful four-legged member."

"Gentlemen," he said, "please excuse me a few moments. I will see Samuel first and explain later."

THE FIRST STEP

to baby's health must be taken before baby's birth. The child can have no more health than the mother gives it.

A healthy mother, strong of body and cheerful of mind, will endow the child with health, with her own physical health and cheerful disposition.

Many a wife, because of past experiences of prenatal misery of mind and body, has found a new era open to her with the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It gives physical strength, soothes the nerves, and induces refreshing sleep. It gives vigor and elasticity to the organs of motherhood, so that the birth hour is practically without pain or suffering.

It makes the mother to provide a plentiful supply of healthy nourishment for the healthy child. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics. Sick women are invited to write to Dr. Pierce by letter for free of charge. All correspondence strictly private and confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Stephen M. Northumberland, M. D., Virginia. "Before my first child was born, I suffered from it. It is the finest child and has been born with and I believe very much to the benefit of confinement. I unhesitatingly advise expectant mothers to use the 'Favorite Prescription'."

WILLIAM RICHARD JOINER.

Born July 23, 1893, Died July 2,

1901, Aged 8 Years, 5 Months and 9 Days.

How sad it is when death enters our homes and removes one of our dear children. The grief of the father and mother is almost beyond endurance. "Dick" was a remarkably sprightly little boy. He was devoted to his parents, and the idol of their hearts. While they loved him truly may they remember that the Savior loved him more. He died for him, and had a use for him and had prepared a place for him in his kingdom above. While it is sad to think that "Dick" will be with us no more, we know that he lives and we can go and meet him.

How much of the sorrow of life he has escaped we cannot tell; but believing him to be at rest we would not call him back to this world of sin and affliction.

To the parents we would say in the language of another: "Your idolized boy is in heaven. Can you look up? Can you bear the splendor of that sight? Ten thousand celestial beings, and your own beloved "Dick," a child angel, in their midst."

"In his eyes a glory light,

And on his brow a glory crown,

May angels keep his little grave

Until the resurrection morn."

J. F. Perrine found a real live chicken was just coming out of the

Dr. E. W. HALL,

St. Louis, Mo.

DEAR SIR: I suffered ten years with severe kidney and bladder troubles and at times was unable to work. I was advised to try your Texas Wonder and after using one fourth of one bottle I passed a large gravel and I have never suffered since passing the same three years ago, and I have never returned it to many others who reported themselves cured.

I most heartily recommend it to all sufferers from kidney or bladder diseases.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Jockey and a Farmer Dead and Several Others Injured.

Port Eran, Ont., July 6.—At the race track last night a row of stables were struck by lightning and a colored jockey, William Scott, of Louisville, was killed, and William

Benner, a farmer, whose residence is just outside the track, was also killed. Mrs. Wolver, Benner's son, William Nash, of Chicago, and

Wm. McCormick, of Toronto, were injured. Several valuable horses were injured.

INVENTIONS FOR BABIES.

Many Brains Kept Busy Devising

Small Infantile Comforts.

"I was looking over a recent monthly report sent out from the patent office at Washington," said a local attorney to a New Orleans Times-Democrat reporter, "and I was surprised at the large number of small things that are patented monthly by the ambitious inventors of America. Many of them, too, will prove of immense benefit to humanity, and in this connection I may say that the growth of this business in importance has impressed me with the wisdom of the forefathers who made the encouragement of invention one of the funda-mentals of our system of government.

Great fortunes are annually made by the inventors of small and simple devices, so we have individual profit combined with a more general public benefit. But there was one thing that impressed me more than any other thing in this connection, and that was the vast amount of attention given to that useful and irreplaceable member, the American baby. Do you know, it is almost impossible to pick up a report sent out by the patent office at Washington without finding one or more little things that have been patented just for the sole and exclusive benefit of the babies of the country. One would think that the larger and more mercenary institutions of the country would crowd the baby out of the mind of the inventor, but this is not the case. The baby has his day in the inventor's court, and the industrious dreamer with a pencil and the mechanical has not been slow in devising things that would add to the comfort of the baby life. In one of the recent reports

I counted three inventions of this character, and incidentally I may remark that there is probably a lesson, just a bit of philosophy, if you please, in the nature of the things. One of them was a bottle—yes, a bottle—the kind the young fellows nibble at when the mother is away. The other two had a similar relation to the comfort and well-being of the baby, but the inventors confined their time and talent to constructing devices to slip over the mouth and neck of the bottle, and, of course, the general idea was to provide a more healthful apparatus for the child who is forced occasionally to fall back on this modern utility. Among the other things designed and patented for the use of the American baby were many rattlers, symbolizing something, inventions that will probably find lodgment in some of the schools fashioned after the plan of Froebel and other kindergartens; but the bottle and June passed in Havana without a single case of yellow fever for the first time since 1781. So much for American Sanitary methods.

Mrs. Martha Patterson, the last of the children of former President Andrew Johnson, died at Greenville, Tenn.

The Ohio Democratic Convention nominated Col. Kilbourne for Governor by acclamation, and adopted a platform opposing imperialism.

The Good Roads train will spend next week at Owensboro, holding the same kind of a convention we are having here this week.

The Sultan has finally paid that little bill of $95,000 with rather poor grace. The amount will be distributed by the State Department.

By a singular coincidence Inspector Hines finished up his Asylum investigation on the eleventh day of the seventh month. And from April to July is 90 days.

Col. E. H. Taylor, who will be a member of the State Senate from Franklin county, will be voted for in the caucus to nominate a U. S. Senator.

In his speech Wednesday Gov. Beckham said he knew more about "rough roads" than good roads. This was taken as a delicate allusion to those members of his official family who are not helping him to make his administration a success.

Van Leer Polk will be the editor and Sylvester Keilher business manager. It will be democratic in politics and its news service will be complete in all departments.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease. It originates in a septic condition of the blood and depends on this condition. It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs and disturbs the stomach.

It is always radically and permanently cured by the blood-purifying, alterative and tonic action of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

This great medicine has wrought the most wonderful cures of all diseases depending on septic blood or the septic blood habit.

Hood's Pills are the best cathartics.

The Minnesota Pardon Board has approved the parole of Coleman and James Younger, who have been in the Stillwater penitentiary for the past twenty-five years for complicity in the robbery and murder at the time of the raid on the Northfield, Minn., bank. They were members of the Jesse James gang.

Editor Bob Walker, of the Catenden Press, has not yet learned how to be funny without being cruel, as witness this:

"It is to be hoped that the section of good road to be built at Hopkinsville today and tomorrow will be good enough and long enough for those fellows who have been a discredit to the asylum management to get out of the town upon."

A local wag created considerable excitement on the streets Wednesday night by starting a false report that Gov. Beckham had, during his visit here, promised to pardon the gamblers indicted by the last grand jury. There was no truth in the report.

Mrs. W. S. Taylor, wife of the Kentucky fugitive indicted for complicity in the murder of Gov. Goebel, died of heart disease in Indianapolis this week. The body was buried in Indianapolis.

BETHEL FEMALE COLLEGE.

Something About This Select Home School For Young Ladies.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of all visitors to Bethel Female College, an Institution whose single purpose is to offer to young ladies and girls the advantages of the highest collegiate education on moderate terms. Inquiry and personal investigation will convince any one that our people in Hopkinsville already have a school for females which is surpassed by none in educational facilities, thoroughness of instruction and influences adopted to training and development of mind and true womanly character. This Select Home School for young ladies, so beautifully situated in the South-eastern part of our town, with its commodious building, ample ground, modern appointments, and full corps of experienced teachers in all departments, should attract the attention and command the patronage of parents who desire the best opportunities for their daughters.

The authorities of the college are very desirous of increased day patronage from the people of the city, believing that the atmosphere and retirement which belong to the college, will best concentrate attention upon study and contribute to the rapid progress of the day pupils also.

The last session has been the most prosperous and successful since the re-organization, and everything seems to indicate that the session which opens Sept. 2, 1901, will be even more satisfactory.

The officers of the college are: Edmund Harrison, M. A., president; Wm. H. Harrison, vice-president; Mrs. Edmund Harrison, lady principal.

The faculty consists of the following experienced instructors: Edmund Harrison, M. A., Latin, French, Mental and Natural Philosophy; Wm. H. Harrison, M. A., Mathematics, Natural Sciences, German; Miss Jane Newman, A. M., English, History, Literature; Roger W. Harrison, B. L., Mathematics, Latin; Mrs. Rosa Hearne Harrison, M. A., English Literature; Miss Kate Harrison, Primary and Preparatory Department, Music Department.

Miss Elizabeth M. Drake, Director, Graduate New England Conservatory, Boston, Piano, Voice, Harmony, Theory, Music History; Miss Miriam Eades, B. A., and Graduate in Music Bethel Female College, Piano.

Miss Jane Newman, National College of Oratory, Philadelphia, Elocution, Reading, Physical Culture; Miss Drake, a new member of the faculty, comes with the highest commendations from all of her

DUAL DEALING.

Two Names, Two Wives, Two Homes, Two Jobs.

Chicago, July 11.—A peculiar double life was revealed in the criminal court here in the case of John P. Klein alias John P. Kent, who pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy and was sentenced to a charge of bigamy and was sentenced to the penitentiary and fined $1. Klein not only had two wives, two names and two homes, but also worked himself to death trying to hold two jobs as a printer. For his first wife, who lives at 108 Mahawk street, he worked all day and gave her about $25 a week. At night he worked in another printing office and took to his second wife at 1130 School street, the proceeds, which amounted to about $10 a week. The latter, however, found it hard to get along on that amount and started an investigation, which resulted in the discovery that the man was leading a double life.

November 13, 1898, Klein married Mary H. Panoch, and on December 6, 1900, married Olga Salstrum at Hammond, Ind., under the name of Kent. The story was told before Judge Kent, who pronounced the sentence.

Cure for Cholera Infantum—Never Known to Fail.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure that it would do good if used according to directions. In two days, time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. CURTIS BAKER, Bookvalter, Ohio. Resolutions.

Resolutions adopted by the Good Roads Convention at Crofton, June 29, 1901:

WHEREAS, the Fiscal Court of Christian county, at its April term, 1901, issued and placed in the market 150 bonds of $500 each, to be sold and for the purpose of buying and building pikes in the county, and whereas the court did buy all of the pikes in the county, and since all of these pikes are in the southern part of the county, therefore the greater part of the money derived from the sale of said bonds was used for the benefit of Hopkinsville and South Christian, thereby ignoring the people of North Christian and leaving us to work our roads in the same way as before, therefore, we, the people of North Christian, inasmuch as we have been denied the right by the Court to a fair and equal distribution of this money, and whereas, we will have to pay our part of the tax, to pay the interest on the bonds and also to be taxed to keep up and repair said pikes, and in view of all that, we are left to keep up our roads the best we can by the system now in use. Therefore be it resolved,

FIRST—That we as citizens of a government whose foundation rests upon principles that guarantee equal privileges to all, condemn the action of the Fiscal court in its unjust and unequal distribution of the funds derived from the sale of the bonds and the discrimination in using these funds for the purchase of pikes already built in the South and refusing to use an equal amount in building pikes in the North.

SECOND—Resolved, that we favor and demand a uniform system of roads throughout the county: that is, we demand that pikes be built in the North that are in every way equal to those that now exist in the South.

THIRD—Resolved, that we condemn the action of the Fiscal court in failing and refusing to incorporate in the bonds issued either a five or ten year option instead of making them 27½ year bonds.

FOURTH—Resolved, That we condemn the action of those citizens of Hopkinsville who, by their counsel and intrigues, influenced the Court to act discriminatorily and against the welfare of the North part of the county.

FIFTH—Resolved, That we express our appreciation and our thanks to those members of the Court and to the County Attorney for their untiring efforts to secure to North Christian a just distribution of the appropriations made from the road funds.

We, your committee, recommend that meetings be held at other points for the purpose of discussing means of securing good roads, and that the next meeting be held at Barnes' store in July.

CLARKSVILLE'S DELEGATION.

Our neighbor city—Clarksville—sent over a delegation consisting of Hon. Dancy Fort, Hon. Austin L. Peay, W. H. Kleeman, W. J. Manning, J. M. Jarrell, J. H. Marable, and others. It was quite a pleasant experience for these gentlemen to lose themselves in the hurry and bustle of city life for a few days. By-the-way Mr. Fort made one of the best short speeches heard at the convention.

THE OLD FIDDLERS.

The fiddlers who rode in the Fiddler's float, playing stirring old time tunes during the parade were: W. F. Randle, T. E. Bartley, J. G. Ford, M. D. Brown, Dr. G. W. Lackey, John H. Morris, Dr. R. R. Bourne, Robt. McCarroll, A. W. Pyle, J. M. Starling and Bailey Waller (guitar). Rev. J. T. Rushing, who is something of a fiddler himself, but had no fiddle, also rode in the float.

A New Man.

C. C. May, Oak Ridge Station, Pa., writes:

"Mr. L. P. Bailey, whose health was impaired and who always felt tired and haggard, by my persuasion, began to use Peruna about a month ago, and now he looks like a different man. He says he feels 100 per cent. better."

N. C. May.

Those desiring a free book on the cause of nerve weakness, anemia and other debilitating diseases should address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

IDENTIFICATION OF GLENN.

Court Makes "It" Take Off Its Veil In Court.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 10.—C. M. Mayhew and Geo. Hoover testified in the Ellis Glenn case this morning and were positive that she was the Bert Glenn they had known. The court room was crowded with ladies to see Glenn. The court made Glenn remove her hat and heavy veil this morning so that witnesses could see her. Every inch is being stubbornly fought by attorneys on both sides.

Heartburn.

When the quantity of food taken is to large or the quality torrid, heart burn is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let six hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, indication that you have eaten too much, take one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the heartburn may be avoided. For sale by all druggists.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Lightning Kills a Young Man and His Horses Near Dycusburg.

Wednesday afternoon of last week, says the Crittenden Press, John Brasher, while at work in a field on his father's farm near Dycusburg, was struck by lightning and instantly killed, during a rain storm. Brasher was on a wagon loaded with hay, and the horses were also killed, and the wagon and contents were burned. Mr. James Brasher, the unfortunate man's father, and another man were at work in the field at the time of the accident but neither was injured.

The funeral took place Thursday. Mr. Brasher was a well known and popular young man.

Public Sale of a Fine Farm.

There are very few American commercial agencies in Italy. The Italian trade is mainly handled by the Paris agents of the American firms.

The West Virginia supreme court of appeals decides that neither a professor in a state university nor a teacher in the public schools is a public officer. Each is an employee.

In an almost despairing effort to stay the dreaded extinction of the fragrant trailing arbutus flowers, the legislature of Connecticut passed a law in 1899 forbidding any person to pull up the plants by the roots on land owned by another under a penalty of $20.

Of the 953,243 population of Porto Rico only 75,000 live in cities. On the island but 100 miles long and 36 wide are 40,000 district farms and one-fifth of the island is under cultivation. The average size of a farm in Porto Rico is 45 acres, of which 12 are cultivated. Seventy-one per cent. of these Porto Rican farms are owned by whites.

A fine maltese cat and a large rat fought to a finish on the lawn front of B. W. Scott's homestead, in the center of Anderson, Ind., says the Indianapolis News. Both were found dead, with the rat's teeth firmly imbedded in the cat's neck, while the teeth of the feline were sunk deeply into the body of the rodent. No one witnessed the battle.

The biggest living man is said to be Lewis Wilkins, who is now arousing great interest in the scientific circles of Europe. Wilkins was born on a farm near St. Paul, Minn., in 1874. When but ten years old he measured six feet in height, and now has grown to the tremendous height of 107 1/2 inches—just three-quarters of an inch less than nine feet—and weighs 364 pounds.

SUICIDE CLUBS.

Have Done Much to Increase the Mania for Self Destruction.

"I think there is no doubt that what are known as suicide clubs exist in fact as well as in fiction," observed one of the physicians of the government hospital for the insane to a Washington Star reporter, "and that three recent suicides in this city are the outcome of the existence of a club of this character. My investigation into the circumstances of quite a number of suicides of this kind has convinced me that these suicide clubs are always composed of men who use intoxicating liquor and use it to excess. While under the influence of narcotics and often as a result of raggedness they organize such clubs. After that they discuss the subject among themselves and others, and find plenty of occurrences in the newspapers to prove or disprove, as they desire, any position they may have taken on the subject. It is as well known is anything can be in psychology that impressions grow rather than diminish, and that often, whether a person is willing or not, his original impression to do a certain thing grows on him unconsciously and that at certain times and under certain conditions of non-success or failure in material matters he is more controlled by it than at others. I am satisfied that these suicide clubs have done much to increase the number of suicides. The persons who are not liable to be influenced by such association or agreement are not what are known as popular people, the apparently good-natured and easy-going people, who make and retain large numbers of friends. Positive people never join a suicide club; indeed, they seldom come in contact with the kind of people who do. I do not care to go into personalities in this matter, but this I think will be shown, that the suicide is generally an extremely pleasant kind of person and belongs to a class that the ordinary person would never suspect of having any tendencies toward self-destruction."

Compounding a Felony.

"No questions be asked" is a dangerous ending in England to an advertisement for the recovery of a lost dog or any other article of moderate value, for by an old statute it is open to anyone to bring an action against the advertiser or the newspaper for £50 penalty and costs. This was the result of a case heard the other day at Manchester. The old thing is that the court had no discretion to diminish the penalty. It is believed to be the first case since 1840.

THE AUSTRALIAN CENSUS.

Victoria Falls Behind New South Wales in Population.

Among the surprises of the Australian census, says the Tablet, is the fact that during the last ten years the population of New South Wales has increased by a number which is four times as great as that which Victoria has added to her number. The census returns show that the increase in the population of Victoria since 1891 is only 53,469, against an increase of 278,050 in the previous decade. The increase is almost entirely in females. During the decade females have increased 51,982 and males only 3,487. Since 1891 the natural increase by excess of births over deaths has been 180,000, and the excess of departures over arrivals, therefore, is 125,000. This one-tenth of the population in 1891 has left Victoria during the decade. At the census of 1891 Victoria had the largest population among the Australian colonies; now New South Wales leads in this respect. The increase in the rural population largely exceeds that of the urban. The population of Melbourne is now 493,956, an increase since 1891 of 3,060; the population of the remainder of the state is 701,998, showing an increase of 52,409. Melbourne, Bendigo, Ballarat and Geelong combined show an increase in population of 12,203; the remainder of the state, 43,161. The census returns show that the population of New South Wales is now, approximately, 1,262,232, an increase since the last census of 230,000.

SOME OF MR. EVARTS' JOKES.

Statesman Known to Have Been Very Witty on Occasion.

At dinner one of our guests spoke of Evarts, and mentioned that that witty personage had remarked, when a speaker who was famous for boring his audiences to death declared that there was nothing which gave him so much pleasure as to speak in public: "The earth is full of such compensations." On being asked whether he would go to the funeral of a man whom he very much disliked, Evarts replied: "No, I shall not attend; but I quite approve of it."

He mentioned that Evarts had been walking once with a man who bored him a good deal with raptures about scenery, "the laughing brooks," and what not. "Did it ever strike you," said Evarts, "that when there are so many laughing brooks in this country it should actually be a criminal offense to divert a water course?"

Mr. Hugh Smith, who dined with us to-night, told me that he once said to Mr. Evarts: "I have given a great deal of attention to Jersey cows, and can never understand how it is that they give so much more milk with you than with us." Evarts made no reply, but presently remarked: "I wonder that you should feel surprised at Jersey cows giving so much less milk with you than they do in an American newspaper."

Of a family not too famous for its virtue, the witty lawyer had said: "That family is propagated by slips."—Diary of Sir Mount Stuart Grant-Duff.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

Cool Nerve of Fisherman Angling in Forbidden Water.

A patient angler was not long ago diligently plying his rod and line in the waters of a cool, clear, limpid brook, when he was suddenly startled by a loud and angry voice behind him. "Do you know," cried the irate riparian owner, "that you are fishing in forbidden water?"

"Forbidden, water?" replied the fisherman calmly. "I was not aware of it."

"Yes, sir, preserved water; and perhaps you will allow me to inform you that I have been in the good hot of it for some time at one time and another in well stocked with fish."

"Ah, yes," exclaimed the angler, languidly; "and with what fish, may I ask, have you so liberally replenished this stream?"

"Roach, sir!" roared the angry land owner; "my favorite fish."

"Ah, well, then, in that case," blandly observed the fisherman, "there's no need for you to worry further, for I am fishing for trout!"—London Tit-Bits.

The May Flower.

Alarm is often expressed lest the May flower become extinct in New England. In Connecticut the plant is under the wing of the law, and it is a misdemeanor there to tear it up by the roots. The regulation, though it is one difficult to enforce, effects considerable good, for the very knowledge of its existence makes

CORREGIDOR'S TOMB.

Historical Spot in the Philippines Desecrated and Riled by Greedy American Soldiers.

When Dewey's squadron entered Manila bay on the mission that was to change the destinies of the Philippines the first shot fired at him came from Corregidor island, at the entrance to the harbor. The island, because of its strategic position, has gone down in naval history, yet few people know how it got its name.

Recent unfortunate events which compelled the government to step in and prevent further desecration of the tomb of Corregidor, its discoverer, have brought its history into prominence.

CORREGIDOR'S TOMB.

(Located at the Entrance to the Harbor of Manila.)

Corregidor, says the New York Herald, was a Spanish explorer and was buried on the island, where a handsome tomb had been erected to his memory.

When the Spanish surrendered Corregidor island to the Americans, the company of soldiers and hospital men were sent there to establish a hospital. While in Manila the soldiers had heard many stories of the Corregidor tomb. One of the stories given out was that a vast amount of jewelry and money had been stored away in the tomb.

As soon as the American soldiers landed on the island they at once turned their way into the monument, but failed to find anything of value. A rust-eaten sword and a few trinkets were all that was found.

The picture shows the hole that the American soldiers made in the tomb.

REV. CAMPBELL MORGAN.

English Preacher Who Will Carry Forward Moody's Work Has Just Arrived in America.

Rev. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, of London, who has just arrived in America to take the place of Dwight L. Moody in the American field of evangelism, was until lately the pastor of the New Court Congregational church, one of the most successful churches in all the United Kingdom. Dr. Morgan is 38 years old. His father was a Baptist minister of Gloucestershire, and his mother the daughter of a Baptist deacon. The son thus came naturally into the ministry. He began to speak in religious meetings when he was 13 years old. In all, he has been preaching 25 years. His first pastorate was to Hall, and he served in various pulpits until in 1892 he was called to Birmingham to take charge of the Westminster Congregational church in that city. Here he has been very successful as pastor. He is very conservative in his views of the Bible, and is more orthodox than otherwise in his theology.

His Eagle That Fishes.

A handsome bald eagle spends two or three hours every morning catching fish at a place within the city limits of Portland, Ore. In plain view of the passengers on a trolley one line. He perches on an oak tree near the shore of a lake in which carp and catfish are plentiful. When his "eagle eye" espies a fish in the shallow water near the shore, down he swoops, and seizing the fish in his talons, flies back to the tree, where he eats, and then watches for another victim. The bird of freedom has chosen the position well, as the tree is on the extreme end of a long peninsula, which no one can approach without being visible for half a mile.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTIONS

to be held on dates and at places as follows:

New Orleans, April 29 and 30.
Orford, Miss., June 3 and 4.
Grenada, Miss., June 5 and 6.
McComb City, June 12 and 13.
Jackson, Miss., June 14 and 15.
Jackson, Tenn., June 21 and 22.

The convention is to be held for the purpose of creating an interest in good roads as a vital aid to the upbuilding of a community, and in connection with them a practical demonstration of the proper building of a road will be made by the National Good Roads Association. Representatives of that association will be present with expert engineers, skilled laborers, and the Illinois Central Good Roads Train, equipped with all forms of special road machinery, and will be building during the convention a piece of road according to the latest approved methods, showing particularly the best results possible with the material at hand in a given locality.

Believing that universal interest should be felt in this movement, there will be made account of it a rate of
